CIA Headquarters Expansion, Langley, Virginia, File A5-
Division 1

Gentlemen:

There have been some recent complaints from lady joggers (CIA employees and/or nearby residents) who are being annoyed by drivers/passengers travelling along the CIA access road from Route 193 to the CIA construction entrance.

It is requested that you bring this complaint to the attention of all of your employees and advise them that this sort of behavior (by the thoughtless few) will not be tolerated, and that any individual identified in conjunction with a complaint will be denied access to the construction site.

Sincerely,

Arthur J. Carlucci
Project Manager
Headquarters Expansion Project
